Colin Olson

My name is Colin Olson and I am currently a senior in Mechanical Engineering at Colorado State University. I plan on attending graduate school as long as I don't have to pay for it. I hope to be awarded a fellowship or grant to a top school, otherwise I will begin work and acquire my degree through the beneficence of my employer. I have not decided if I will get my PhD but it is a definite possibility. After school I plan on working in the aerospace industry. My dream job would be working for NASA or a contractor involved with the space program. In my spare time I like to read and play soccer, softball, and guitar. I also enjoy the occasional beer.
