

Stuart Taylor

I am Stuart Taylor. I am entering my first of two senior years in Mechanical Engineering at the University of Houston in fall of 2003, which I will spend in an exchange program studying at the University of Leipzig, Germany. I shoot pool and play with my computer for fun. In class I've always favored the theoretical aspects of engineering over the practical ones, so I have something to keep in mind when I choose what I want to do for graduate work.

David Johnson

My name is David Johnson, I'm a senior at Michigan Technological University in Houghton, Michigan. I plan to pursue a master's degree in Mechanical Engineering, but I don't yet know which area of research to. I come from Traverse City, Michigan, where I enjoy cross-country skiing and sailing. I'm thoroughly enjoying my time in Los Alamos and at the LADSS.

Cory Rupp

I am currently a student at Montana State University in Bozeman, Montana. Next year I will be a 5th-year senior in Mechanical Engineering. I am also pursuing math and physics minors as well as an honors degree. I plan on going to graduate school at ... somewhere, and plan to specialize in ... something. I thoroughly enjoy the outdoors and love to ride the trails, scale the mountains, and toss in a line all within five miles of home.
